South Padre Island, TX Lodging Study Methodology

Young Strategies, Inc. (YSI) conducted a survey of the hotel/motel properties and vacation rental management companies (VRMs) located in South Padre Island, Texas as part of a lodging market analysis commissioned by the South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau (SPICVB). Lodging on South Padre Island includes hotel motel and vacation rental homes and condominiums. A short 8-question survey was sent to the South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau database of hotel/motel lodging properties in South Padre Island to estimate the following key metrics projected for the full calendar year 2017: percentage of occupancy driven by 5 market segments and annual occupancy. Hoteliers were also asked to provide recommendations for target markets to drive increased leisure visitation, to rank geographic markets to indicate their priority order for SPICVB's future sales and marketing efforts, and to report the percentage of room nights sold originating from Texas, Mexico, Canada, and other U.S. states. The survey contained three open-ended questions allowing hoteliers to share any noted changes/shifts in room demand over the last year, share their biggest challenge in marketing their property as well as future sales/marketing suggestions for South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau. A similar survey was deployed to eight of the largest SPI vacation rental management (VRM) companies asking for the similar market information with some slight adjustments made for relevancy to a vacation rental property versus a hotel/motel property. Lodging surveys were collected from December, 2017 through April, 2018.

HOTEL/MOTEL INVENTORY: At the time of the YSI lodging study South Padre Island had twenty-nine hotel/motel properties with approximately 2,373 rooms actively collecting lodging tax and eleven of these properties with a total of 1,320 rooms (56% of room inventory) currently participate with STR. A total of eleven properties representing 1,349 rooms participated in the YSI survey, thus providing an overall response rate of 56.8%. This response rate is considered to be a predictive sample of the overall market based on the size and geographic distribution of the South Padre Island lodging inventory.

VACATION RENTAL INVENTORY: The City of South Padre Island website (www.myspi.org) lists 2,343 permitted vacation property rentals. VRM Intel is currently preparing report with data from the eight largest VRM agencies in South Padre Island with data expected to be added to this report in June, 2018. YSI purchased market data from AirDNA for the Airbnb inventory of 1,132 property rentals for the SPI market.

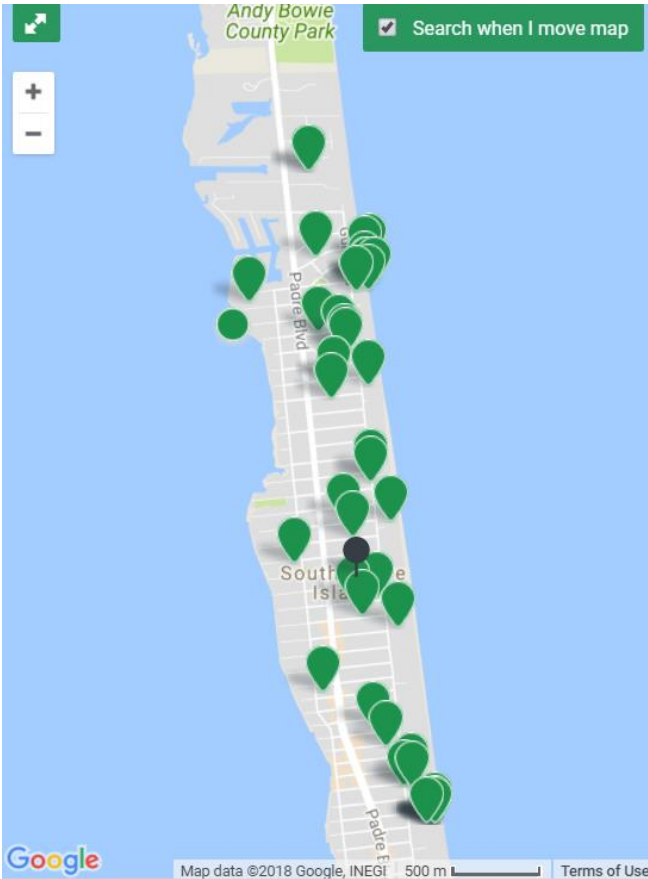

Note: The charts and tables on the following pages outline the overall findings from the lodging properties that responded to the YSI survey. YSI estimates a margin of error (+/- 3-5%).

South Padre Island CVB Lodging Analysis

South Padre Island, TX Vacation Rentals by Owners

The City of South Padre Island website (www.myspi.org) lists 2,343 permitted vacation property rentals. Some of these permitted properties are inactive. A search on VRBO (Vacation Rental By Owner) for properties available in South Padre Island, TX, pulls up 1,698 properties available for rental. A search on Airbnb (using AirDNA) brings up 1,132 properties in a variety of price ranges. A survey of seven of the largest Vacation Rental Management (VRM) companies revealed a total of 571 rental properties under the seven companies management. It is understood that many vacation property owners “double-dip” by listing their property with a VRM as well as one or more online booking agencies. All vacation rental properties are required to be registered with the city (there is no policing process to identify unregistered rentals) which would indicate a total rental inventory in the range of 2,250 – 2,500.

Note:
A total of three properties with 459 rooms have opened in the last 10 years in South Padre Island. The Suites at Sunchase (2008, 87 rooms), the Hilton Garden Inn Beach Resort (2010, 156 rooms) and the Schlitterbahn Beach Resort (2012, 216 rooms) reopened an existing property that had been closed for renovation. These three properties account for 19.3% of the total hotel/motel lodging room inventory.

Observations:

- Room supply experienced an overall increase of 6% in 2013 (Schlitterbahn reopened property after renovation) as compared to 2012 and has remained flat with no hotel development since 2013.
- Room demand has increased 10.7% comparing total rooms sold in 2017 to 2012. The chart bellows shows the market took four years to absorb the 2013 growth in supply.

2016	59.7%	4.7%	65.5%	0.1%
2017	60.5%	1.5%	65.9%	0.9%

Observations:
As seen in the table and chart below, occupancy levels have fluctuated over the 6-year period of 2012 – 2017. A dip in occupancy was seen in 2013 when the Schlitterbahn Resort was opened in late 2012 with 216 renovated rooms (supply increase). While room demand was up in 2013, it struggled to keep pace with the new room supply thus a slight decline in 2013 lodging occupancy. Despite a slight dip in room demand and occupancy in 2015, the SPI’s lodging market has performed well over the last six years absorbing the increase in supply and driving occupancy up..

STR Participating Hotel/Motel 6 - Year ADR and RevPAR Trends

South Padre Island’s STR-participating properties reported ADR and RevPAR as shown in tables and charts below.

ADR vs. RevPAR 2012-2017
	ADR	% Chg	RevPAR	% Chg
2012	$ 102.26	~	$ 59.36	~
2013	$ 109.18	6.8%	$ 61.83	4.2%

2017	$ 113.84	0.2%	$ 68.92	1.6%

Observations:

- ADR was on a positive 3-year trend 2012 – 2014 until 2015 when hoteliers lowered ADR (Average Daily Rates) in response to a slight dip in room demand. ADR continued to decrease in 2016 and remained flat in 2017.
- Likewise, RevPAR (Revenue Per Available Room) was also on the same trend line with the exception of slight increase in 2016 and 2017 when room demand was back up. This is an important trend to watch as the lodging industry tracks RevPAR as a key indicator of lodging success and profitability.

STR HOTEL REVENUE VS SPI LODGING REVENUE

Observations:

- The revenues in the above table are for hotel/motel properties only according to STR and do not include vacation rental revenue. The chart on the right includes the STR data for hotels in the lower line and the total lodging revenue in the SPI market as calculated from the 8% tax submitted to the SPICVB. The difference between the STR reported hotel revenue and the total is revenue from rentals.
- Overall, the South Padre Island hotel/motel lodging market experienced increasing revenues over the last 6-years with the exception of the slight decline in 2015 due to a 0.9% decrease in room demand combined with a 0.9% decrease in ADR.
- It must also be noted that not all room revenue is taxable (government and long-term rental rooms are exempt), therefore actual lodging tax revenues will not compare with this data.

Observations:

- Weekend occupancy is performing well above the critical 60% mark for a majority of the weeks February through July.
- An extreme fall-off in occupancy is noted beginning in August when students are returning to school and continuing through January. New promotions are needed to bring in adult-only travel parties to off-set these need periods.

South Padre Island Market Segmentation – YSI Hotel/Motel and VRM Surveys

The YSI survey of the South Padre Island hotel/motel and vacation rental managers revealed the market segments that are driving overnight visitation within the destination. Corporate and group business are tracked closely by rate codes, while leisure segment data is often collected by the management team at the individual properties. Rank order is shown in table below:

Hotel/Motel	VRM	2017 Market Segmentation
79.9%	97.9%	Transient
68.2%	74.2%	Leisure Transient- (sightseeing, visiting friends & relatives, shopping, dining, etc.)
9.0%	23.7%	Long-term winter rental
2.7%	~	Business Transient- (individual business travelers and skilled workers)
20.1%	2.1%	Group / Conference / Meeting
13.2%	~	Business / Meeting / Conference
6.9%	~	SMERF (Social, Military, Educational, Religious, Fraternal)

Source: YSI survey of South Padre Island lodging properties

Observations:

- This data confirms South Padre Island is a leisure destination with nearly 70% of hotel/motel room nights sold being driven by the leisure transient segment and 74% of the vacation rental market. STR data confirmed these findings with Friday and Saturday nights running highest occupancy in South Padre Island throughout the year.
- South Padre Island hotel/motel managers reported long-term winter rental as the next highest segment at 9%, while VRMs reported this segment at 24%. Group/conference/meeting accounted for 20% of room nights sold in hotel/motel(s) with just 2% in the vacation rentals.
- This indicates a heavy reliance on the leisure segments to drive room nights in South Padre Island. Dependence on any one segment can be a dangerous trend and thus must be monitored closely. The SPICVB must continue to work on diversification and expansion of market share in other adult-only and group segments.

Americans from states other than Texas make up the next largest percentage of renters and owners followed by Mexicans and Canadians.

Geographic Market	Hotel/Motel % of room nights sold	VRMs % of guests	VRM % of owners
Texas	75.2%	58.7%	64.4%

2017 Annual Occupancy

VRM managers were asked to report their 2017 annual occupancy. The average annual occupancy of the VRMs that responded to the survey was reported at 52% with a range of 38.3% - 80.0%.

2017 Length of Stay

Length of stay was reported with a range of 4 nights to 69 nights. The average length of stay was reported to be 16.6 nights. This number is skewed as nearly one third of the market was reported to be long-term winter rentals.

Hoteliers were asked to provide their input on the biggest challenges in marketing their property.

6 properties responded; verbatim comments are below:

- Airport and getting customers to get here therefore that's why the local market is very important since it's a drive market versus fly.
- Finding business in the off-season.
- Finding guests that are willing to book in the off season.
- Finding guests that are willing to book in the off season.
- Getting higher rates
- High hotel tax. Room rates are fine until you give the rate + hotel tax + state tax + city tax + county tax
- Rate integrity from island hotels.
- SPI is a year-round destination. Uniqueness/diversity of our property. We are a beachfront resort with a waterpark, not a waterpark with a hotel. Enough "other" things to do on the Island. Distance from airports.
- The off season.

Hoteliers were asked to provide any insight into major shifts or changing trends in room night sales in South Padre Island over the last year.

8 properties responded; verbatim comments are below:

- 90% sales coming from 3rd party booking sites, 10 from my website
- Decrease in traffic from Mexico
- Fewer guests coming from Mexico
- Hurricane Harvey played a big role in large group cancellations for the month of Sept and Oct
- Increase in association business, drop in Houston market, Spring Break- less demand, Semana Santa- less demand.
- June, July, August, and September were down from 2016 by around 10%
- Less Mexican travel
- More younger couples checking in. Due to work with the new LNG, workers are staying with us. Online bookings are way up.

Hoteliers were also asked to provide any suggestions for future sales and marketing efforts for the South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau.

9 properties responded; verbatim comments are below:

- Do more research on what type of demographic would be willing to travel in the off season and target them for the marketing efforts. For example, kite boarders, birders, fisherman, etc.
- Events that target younger, more affluent demos (Austin area especially). More aggressive Austin market. Better job recruiting group business from within the RGV. Create more urgency for upper valley RGV to visit SPI. Winter Texan "home states". Monterrey, Mexico. Late March, April, September- early November is best weather of the year and some of the slowest months- this needs to be addressed with clearer messaging.
- More focus on promoting the island activities nationally not just local.
- More online, social media presence versus old fashion billboards and airport signs. People are always shopping online whether for vacation or personal. That's where the bug should be planted as far as making us their destination. Majority of Spring breakers use online for their research versus seeing a billboard or reading a magazine. Overall online marketing should be enhanced.
- Research and market to the demographic that travels in the off season such as kite boarders, home school parents, birders, etc. Do more marketing in Mexico.
- SPI needs a large billboard south of San Antonio that would market to ANY traveler going to Corpus, Part A, and North Padre
- Stop using Atkins group, its not working. Start doing more TV, billboards, bus advertising, bench advertising.
- Target and market outside the RGV. We need to get a bigger market share from Corpus, Galveston, and other TX beaches.
- Target the travelers in the demographic that are willing to book in the off season such as kite boarders, bird watchers, etc.

VRM managers were asked to provide any insight into major shifts or changing trends in how guests are making their reservations.

7 VRM managers responded; verbatim comments are below:

- A lot of people want to just post on SPI Concierge and have us all make offers through messenger. No one wants to call anymore.
- Guests are choosing to book through distribution channels like Airbnb, Homeaway, and Flipkey. The search engine rankings go to the big companies. People want to book online. Our regular phone call reservations were cut by more than 40% from 2016 to 2017.
- Less number of days booked
- Much more online
- Opting to use booking platforms to make reservations, VRBO, etc. Reservations are also tending to be for less nights than previous years.
- Shorter stays. Primary guests group other than Winter Texan are mostly people from San Antonio, Houston, and RGV. North and Central Texas guests have declined.
- Stays have gotten shorter over the past 5 years.

VRM managers were also asked to provide any suggestions for future sales and marketing efforts for the South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau.

4 VRM managers responded; verbatim comments are below:

- Austin!!
- Concentrate on this being a destination for families, middle aged adults, and seniors- not so much on spring breakers, more and more property owners are not wanting these reservations.
- Less internet driven marketing. More national television ads and vacation oriented publication ads
- Shoulder season events and activities.

VRM managers were asked if their marketing strategies changed in 2017 from previous years.

6 of the 7 properties that responded to our survey reported that their marketing strategies had changed.

Yes:

- Increased advertising dollars
- Less money in print and more in internet advertising
- More aggressive marketing (email campaign)
- More marketing to my website directly
- On Facebook more than I would hope to try and get bookings.
- Where we used to compete more heavily for Google rankings we now must compete for placement inside the separate distribution channels. Where do our properties rank when a person goes to Homeaway, VRBO, AirBnB, Trip Advisor, etc. Now Expedia and Booking are fully in the game. We not only need to be on these channels we need to rank well within their listings for South Padre Island. We are spending much more time and money on content.

No:

- No, we didn't change our strategy, but we should have.

Travel Behavior Characteristics

Observations: At least one-fourth of leisure respondents in every season indicate this was their first time visiting South Padre Island, with winter having the highest incidence of first-time visitor respondents. One-third first time respondents is healthy and shows the destination appeals to both repeat visitors (high satisfaction drives repeat visitation) and first-time visitors who have been inspired by advertising or referrals from repeat visitors. The table at the bottom of the page reveals the majority of those repeat visitors have been coming to SPI for 10 or more years with a healthy ratio of newer visitors who have been coming for ten years or less.

Location of Vacation Rental Property Accommodations

Q. Please tell us the type of vacation rental property that your party stayed in:

■ Gulf-front ■ Non gulf-front

Observations: Gulf-front condos are the most popular vacation rental property type across all seasons with the exception of winter long-term visitors.

Response Category	Spring n=108	Summer n=251	Fall n=97	Winter short-term n=77	Winter long-term n=127
Gulf-front	55.6%	59.4%	66.0%	64.9%	46.5%
Non gulf-front	44.4%	40.6%	34.0%	35.1%	53.5%

Size of Vacation Rental Property

Observations: The majority of survey respondents who stayed in a vacation rental (non-hotel/motel) reported staying in a two bedroom vacation rental followed by three bedroom rentals. 1-3 bedrooms were in the majority of the rental units where visitors stayed with 2 bedrooms being the most popular choice. This data confirms the travel party size and composition reported in this research.

Q. How many bedrooms were in the rental unit where you stayed?

Booking Method for a Vacation Rental Property

Observations: Respondents in all four seasons indicated the two top rental reservation methods were with VRBO/Home Away or a resort/rental agency. Winter Long-term visitors are more likely to book with resort/rental agencies (35%). It must be noted the vast majority of vacation rental bookings are made with online booking sites other than local vacation rental management agencies. This is of concern in terms of marketing because the destination loses control of providing visitor information prior to arrival and at check-in.

Q. How did you reserve your vacation rental?

Primary Trip Purpose

Observations: The responses to this question reveal the trend in American traveling households toward an increasing number of short getaways each year combined with one or two annual vacations. Summer respondents were nearly equally split between getaways and vacations while Spring and Fall visitors were more likely to visit for getaways. Winter visitors are most likely to come for longer stays.

Q. Please identify the PRIMARY motivation for your most recent leisure visit to South Padre Island.

All visitors are most likely to use referrals from friends and relatives and look at user-generated content on travel review sites – this is reflective of national travel trends. Online searches and destination websites are also high priority in terms of generating interest in first time visitation.

Gulf Shores and PCB in only winter long term visitors. It is interesting to note that Winter Long-term visitors indicate they visit many other beach destinations on the Gulf. An estimated 96,000 winter Texans visited the Rio Grande Valley between 2015 and 2016, according to University of Texas Rio Grande Valley's 2015-2016 Winter Texan Report conducted by the Business & Tourism Research Center. Favorite Texas Beach Destination

Observations: Survey respondents were asked if South Padre Island is their favorite Texas beach destination. The vast majority of respondents (higher than 88% in all seasons of the year) indicated SPI is their favorite beach destination. This is important and must be compared to the responses in the prior question whereby respondents showed that 1/3 to 1/2 of respondents also go to Galveston island and Port Aransas Beach. South Padre Island is their favorite beach but the other Texas beaches are closer in proximity to the densely populated East Texas metropolitan areas.

Purpose

YSI surveyed local residents of South Padre Island and Port Isabel to identify the perceptions of South Padre Island as a place to both reside and host out-of-town guests. A survey instrument was developed to help identify the perceptions of South Padre Island as a travel destination as well as a place to work, live and retire. Strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats related to the promotion of South Padre Island as a destination were also gathered from the community leaders of South Padre Island.

Methodology

Resident questions were prepared as part of the South Padre Island visitor survey by the Young Strategies research team and approved by the SPICVB. Local attractions deployed the survey invitation to their databases that included residents and visitors. Those taking the online survey were asked if they were residents of or visitors to South Padre Island/Port Isabel. Residents answered questions related to hosting visitors in their South Padre Island homes.

The South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau provided YSI with a database of community leaders that included elected officials, board members, hoteliers, restaurateurs, attractions, Chamber of Commerce leaders and various business leaders. An online survey instrument was prepared by the Young Strategies research team and approved by SPICVB staff. A total of 63 community leaders provided in the SPICVB database were invited by email to take the community leader survey online; 35 surveys were received from the SPICVB database for a 56% response rate. Three additional community leader surveys were received from a unique weblink created for the Board of Directors for Padre Owners Who Care (POWC), thus N = 38.

Do you have any thoughts, suggestions or ideas related to promoting South Padre Island as a destination we have not covered? n=23

- "Increases festivals and events budget to create more one of a kind, unique off-season events.
- Continued infrastructure improvement to add charm, sense of place and unique attractiveness to SPI for year round visitors.
- Nail down true cruise ship potential
- and make it happen if the ROI is substantiated as highly valuable to
- the destination..."
- A more complete awareness of everything we have available to promote to our visitors. As staff and ad agencies come and go it seems that influences and "pet projects" become the focus and we forget about other activities, events, sights, etc. Sometimes it is our "hidden" treasures that are of most interest. Besides the general vacation experience, visitors also seek out the "local experience". Been seeing some improvements recently but more is needed.
- Better marketing to travelers-airports, TripAdvisor/Expedia etc. Use events as a marketing tool - must have more events to do that.
- Bring cruise ships to make year-round destination.
- Combining the Port Isabel and the SPI Chambers would better promote SPI as a destination. All of the events the Port Isabel Chamber puts on benefits SPI more than P I. Why not combine the talent we have on both chambers to become even better. The city and EDC from both cities should help.
- Continue partnerships with neighbors to get broader exposure.
- Encourage/host more Texas-based activities (music festival with Texas talent; wine festival with Texas wines; etc). Need more family friendly attractions.
- Focus on fun entertainment and not just heads in beds. Get folks here and they will stay.
- Go to more out of state markets
- Increase advertising in south Texas market
- more aggressive sales/marketing during shoulder seasons
- More families needed at Spring Break. Need to find a way to decrease negative publicity about this "wild" place
- More media coverage out of the local area to encourage higher income visitors to support our local businesses year around ... TV ads in major cities across Texas
- n/a
- need to distinguish us from corpus
- No (2)
- Shoulder weeks of spring break is a big opportunity.
- Strategic brand transformation that is data driven
- Target the easy markets that are drivable. Austin San Anton Laredo and Houston as well as Monterrey. That should be 90% of focus for adult market. Encourage shoulder week "yankees" college students in march as they come back as adults stop treating them as a given and as 2nd class tourists
- Venues that do not attract criminally minded individuals or gangs. More facilities like Schlitterbaun for families and venues like the Birding Center and turtle rescue center for people interested in nature and ecology.
- Work with local Airlines for Package trips
- You need to find a retirement home company to build a state of the art facility here. We have a mine that isn't being utilized, great weather and all the winter Texans who are like gold. More events like a metal detecting contest, sponsor a contest and you will get thousands of new people from all over the world to visit. Summertime music festivals. An state of the art Aquarium, a boardwalk with shops and fishing and viewing areas. A large marina to attract larger ships for the fishing that our artificial reef is going to bring in.

Travel Planning Sources

Observations: Here we see very little difference in the planning preferences of Texans and non-Texan survey respondents. As is the current trend in travel planning we see nearly two-thirds of respondents preferring to use rating & booking sites such as TripAdvisor, Orbitz, Expedia, etc. There is a trend toward travel planners preferring user-generated content as they find it to be unvarnished and “real”.

Gulf Coast Visitation

Observations: Survey respondents were asked to identify the Gulf coast destinations that they typically visit. Among Texan respondents Galveston ranked highest which can be attributed to its closest proximity to the dense population in east Texas. For the same reason Corpus Christi ranked second among Texans but only slightly edged out South Padre Island which is an additional two hour drive beyond Corpus for most Texans. Among non-Texan survey respondents the Florida beaches were visited most often with South Padre in a virtual tie with Galveston for sixth place.

- The Texas economy is outpacing the nation once again, following the mid-decade downturn in energy prices and output. Real GDP and employment growth have surged as oil prices have rebounded. Job growth has increased ahead of the region, as its diverse economy is once again firing on all cylinders. Business activity and sentiment has ramped up, according to the Dallas Fed Manufacturing Outlook, which is at its highest level since January 2006.
- Nonfarm payrolls rose 2.4 percent this past year, netting 294,000 new jobs. Natural resources and mining payrolls rose 12.5 percent and are up nearly 18 percent since bottoming in November 2016. The sector's employment is still 25 percent below its 2014 peak, even though oil production has surpassed previous highs. The energy industry has vastly increased productivity and is also still benefitting from the investment boom earlier this decade.
- Construction payrolls are also up solidly, as strong population and employment growth drive demand for homes and apartments. The Texas Rangers also recently broke ground on a new $1.1 billion baseball stadium in Arlington, slated for completion in 2020.
- The improved economic performance is impressive given the challenges the Lone Star State faced this past year. Hurricane Harvey was the second-most costly hurricane in U.S. history, with an estimated $125 billion in damages. While devastating to life and property, payrolls recovered quickly and Houston's economy was back up and running fairly quickly. The storm highlighted Texas' resilient economy, as the state continued to grow throughout the period.
